FSSI and DigitalMailer to Co-Market Credit Union Document Communications & Marketing Services

Santa Ana, CA and Herndon, VA – September 6, 2005 – FSSI and DigitalMailer, Inc. announced today they have entered into a sales and referral agreement. FSSI is a leader in document communication services providing transactional statements, direct mail pieces and electronic document services to the credit union community. DigitalMailer develops and produces eStatements, e-Checks and related digital communication services for credit unions. The combination of FSSI's document and direct mail capabilities, storage and viewing solutions with DigitalMailer's eStatements and eChecks provides a total document management solution to credit unions.

FSSI selected DigitalMailer as the best in breed-supplier of digital communication products to credit union clients and members throughout the country. The referral agreement will allow both companies to promote and support their industry-leading products and services within their respective groups of credit union clients and prospects. "We are looking forward to jointly serving credit unions' offering a one stop source for transactional documents, direct mail, eStatement and digital communications needs," said Jennifer Dietz, President of FSSI.

"Partnering with FSSI to serve credit unions matches well with DigitalMailer's business model," said Ron Daly, President of DigitalMailer. "Our credit union client base is rapidly expanding across the country and FSSI brings added value to our solutions with its data management, print and mail processing facilities."
